A search of the scriptures reveals twelve demonic strongholds or "houses" that the enemy sends against mankind in an attempt to torment both them and the Father who loves them. The number "12" in scripture is often associated with governmental order. It is not surprising that Satan would have 12 spiritual agents that he would send against mankind in an attempt to rule and dominate man. It is a clear counterfeit of God's benevolent loving order and authority intended for mankind.

In the context of ministering to others, we've noticed that these 12 particular classes of evil spirits seem to manifest themselves in a person's personality in very common and understandable ways. What follows is a listing of common manifestations associated with each spirit. In addition, we have compiled an exhaustive list of spirits often encountered when ministering deliverance and corresponding manifestations in one's personality, which often mark the presence of each spirit, listed.

These lists serve as a tool for recognizing strongholds in your own life so that you can seek deliverance for yourself. Jesus wants to set you free. Since he has paid the price, why not choose to appropriate it in one's own life? The goal of deliverance is to set you free so that Jesus can use you to set others free. Captives free to set other captives free. Deliverance, and salvation, for that matter, is always a means to the end of spreading God's kingdom. It was never intended to be self-focused. We are set free to set others free in the name of Jesus and by the power of God's Holy Spirit. Hopefully, this list will help those who minister to recognize a spirit by its common manifestations.

Obviously, this is in not an attempt to create a formula to explain away the work of or the need for the Holy Spirit in all ministries. It should also be mentioned here that there appear in Jewish writings some specific "names" of other demons, as well. We have used this list to help people to search their own hearts in preparation for deliverance ministry and as a tool for ministering deliverance to those in need.
